| Building Blocks of You         | • Children; 5-12 yrs. old
• M/F                                                                 | There are many different aspects that make up how an individual perceives themselves and their larger community. This interactive workshop is an exploration of the parts that make up you, the role we each play in our smaller communities and the bleeding disorders community, allowing participants to explore these questions and more through hands-on activities and guided open discussions. Can be modified for an all male audience | 60          | 15-30      | • NYLI
• NHF Staff       | CES*     |
| Choose to Take Control         | • Teenagers; 14+
• Adults; 18+
• M/F                                                                 | Being a good consumer is more than just access to products and care, it is also about knowing the do’s and don’ts that impact your daily life with a bleeding disorder. It’s about understanding your disease, choosing a care team, clearly communicating your needs and accepting responsibility for making the decisions that ensure your safety and wellbeing. During this interactive presentation, we will discuss tips, tricks and tools available to help you become a better self-advocate and an overall good consumer. | 60          | 15-200     | • Speakers Bureau

| Communicating with Providers   | • Adults; 18+
• Patients, Caregivers, Parents
• M/F                                                                 | YOU are your most important advocate in the health care system. If you have a child, you are also their most important advocate. In order to be a strong advocate for yourself and/or your child, it is important for you to learn how to make your concerns heard and understood. By improving communication and advocacy skills, you can learn to speak more effectively and secure appropriate treatment.                                                                 | 60          | 15-40      | • Speakers Bureau

You may be unsure of “when” and “how” to disclose to friends and family. This workshop will help you make decisions around disclosure and gain comfort around discussing your child’s bleeding disorder with others.                                                                 | 45-60       | 15-40      | • Speakers Bureau

<td>Gene Therapy Basics for Hemophilia; What You Need to Know</td>
<td>Adults; 18+</td>
<td>Recently there has been an explosion of innovation in the treatment of Hemophilia. It is becoming more important than ever to stay informed on all the advancements – what they are and how they work in the body. Understanding all the options, the potential as well as the limitations, risks and unknowns of each type of therapy will enable community members to have robust conversations with their providers and to ultimately make the best decision on treatment. This presentation is designed to provide a basic overview making these complex concepts more understandable.</td>

<td>Girl Identity; A Look in the Mirror</td>
<td>Children; 9-12 yrs. old</td>
<td>Trying to figure out who you are and how you fit in can be hard enough when you are a teen/pre-teen, but adding a bleeding disorder on top of it adds a whole different dimension to the concept of identity exploration. Who am I? What makes me, me? What makes me special? How does my bleeding disorder influence and fit into my identity and my future? This interactive workshop will allow girls to explore identity through hands-on activities and guided discussions. Participants will be able to connect and walk away with the knowledge that they are supported and not alone.</td>

<td>Go to Dinner, Go to Jail</td>
<td>Teenagers; 14-17 yrs. old</td>
<td>Having a bleeding disorder comes with great responsibility to get the best care possible. This interactive session will give you information on the sometimes confusing acronyms - HTC, 340B, HRSA, etc. - which can be a roadblock to getting care. We will also cover the critical questions to ask when choosing a factor provider. Finally, we will address the responsibility that parents, patients, pharmaceutical and homecare representatives have in following the rules and laws that affect us all.</td>

| Let’s Talk Bullying... | •Children; 5-8 yrs. old
•Children/Teens; 11-15 yrs. old
•Adults; 18+
•Parents & Caregivers
•M/F | •Art Project (ages 8-13): Art is a wonderful way for children to express their thoughts and feelings on difficult topics. Depending on a child’s experience, the topic of bullying can cause them to be anxious and/or to feel uncomfortable. Through a creative process, participants will have the opportunity to discuss bullying and express themselves through art.
•Miss Spider’s Tea Party (ages 5-8): It is never too early too talk about bullying. Miss Spider’s Tea Party is a storybook that will help lead a discussion about questions, feelings and concerns children might have about this complex topic. They will gain tips on how to deal with a difficult situation and understand the importance of talking to an adult when faced with bullying.
•Scenarios (ages 11-15): Bullying is a loaded word and can be a difficult topic for young adolescents to discuss. Through discussion of different scenarios and role playing, participants will have the opportunity to come up with creative solutions in a safe environment.
•For Parents: In 2012, the CDC declared bullying a major public health issue. Parents play a crucial role in supporting and educating their children about this important issue. Through discussion and realistic scenarios parents are given the opportunity to think about what they might do to support their child(ren) if they are being bullied. | 30-60 | 15-60 | •NYLI (Kids & Teens)

• M/F                                                | Have you ever discussed your or your child’s bleeding disorder on social media, or on a website for fundraising or advocacy purposes? Have you ever joined an online discussion group to give or receive advice? Talking about your own bleeding disorder or your child’s online can create a digital history that may last longer than you intended. Join the discussion on the best ways to use social media as a member of the community, what to look for and what to avoid, and what the future might hold. | 60           | 15-30      | • NHF Staff                        | CES*     |
| Talking About What Isn’t Talked About / Hablando de lo que no se habla     | • Adults; 18+
• M/F                                                | This workshop is in development by NHF’s Mental Health Working Group, in partnership with Mental Health Matters Too, and will be available starting in March 2020. The description and title are not final but this topic will explore stigma around mental health, and when in Spanish will dive in more deeply to cultural and other considerations for the Latinx community. | 60           | 15-30      | • Speakers Bureau - SW or Licensed Professional Counselor | CES*     |
| The Identity Card                                                            | • Teenagers; 12-18 yrs. old
• M/F                                                  | Teenage years can be challenging and overwhelming, trying to figure out who you are and what's your identity can be a lot to take on! What is an identity? What makes me, me? How does my bleeding disorder affect, influence, and fit into my identity? This interactive workshop will explore these questions and more through hands-on activities and guided discussions. | 60           | 15-30      | • NYLI

<td>What Everyone Who Treats with Factor Needs To Know About Inhibitors</td>
<td>• Adults; 18+</td>
<td>If you treat with clotting factor, you may be at risk for developing an inhibitor. If you know someone or have heard of someone living with an inhibitor, you know it can be scary. But it doesn’t mean you should know whether you or your family member are at risk for developing one. If you don’t have an inhibitor, it’s still important to know whether you’re at risk. If you have hemophilia or VWD type 3 and use a factor product, you are at risk for developing an inhibitor. This workshop is for people that do not have an inhibitor and will explain inhibitors, how they develop as well as how and why you should have a conversation with your healthcare provider about screening for an inhibitor.</td>
